Dear Teacher Robin,

Lulu still talks about Robin's Nest, Teacher Robin and Teacher Tory. As recently as last week she said, "I'm going to my real school today."

She diligently "works" on her journal and numerous projects on her days at home.

She still says, "I need to get Teddy (bear) ready for Robin's Nest. I've got to pack a lunch".

We remember the names of her Robin's Nest friends when the situation arises like, "I wonder if Gabby's sleeping now?" or "is Noah brushing his teeth, too?"

When she found out we were going on a field trip with you to the Pumpkin Farm, she went through the whole list wondering aloud if everyone would be there.

When Teacher Robin got down on her level to say hello and talk with her, Louise beamed at her in a way I have not seen even with most family members.

We will always remember Robin's Nest as a wonderful pre-school experience.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Kent Rosen

P.S. I didn't get lost in the maze, we were looking for you guys!
