To whom it may concern:

My son, Keagan, attended Robin's Nest for a year. He was very happy there doing a variety of fun and academic activities. Robin worked well with Keagan as she made him feel comfortable, respected his interests and ideas and was also firm when she needed to be. She is very good at making her students feel united with each other in a family-like atmosphere.

Keagan enjoyed many things at this school. I found that his most enjoyable thing was bringing in or verbally sharing with the class his most recent experiences he had had outside of school. He was always excited to go to school Monday morning with his latest venture and couldn't wait to share with Teacher Robin and his classmates. Everyone seemed to be enthused about his sharing and always made him feel special.

I would recommend Robin's Nest for any child, knowing they would have a positive experience there.

Sincerely,

Tammi Maguire
